

Foreword

The first volume of this Specialist Periodical Report was published in three parts which provided comprehensive literature coverage of Aliphatic, Alicyclic, and Saturated Heterocyclic Chemistry for the period January 1970–December 1971. The favourable response to this Report encouraged us to make each of these areas in future the subject of an individual SPR title.

This volume covers the area of Alicyclic Chemistry for the period January–December 1972 and its overall structure is, as before, based on a ring-size division. Fortunately we are able to field an unchanged team of contributors all of whom would welcome any suggestions for improving the coverage or format of this Report.
