

Preface

Volume 24 of this series surveys the published literature of Organometallic Chemistry for the calendar year 1994. Volume 23 saw a very considerable reorganisation of material and chapters and this now appears to be settling in well with our reporters, who continue to do a miraculous job of consolidating a quart of material into the proverbial pint pot.

E W Abel

