

You are warmly invited to this year's

Thames Valley Annual Guest Evening

on

Friday 15 May 2015

For RSC Members and their guests

This year we are pleased to welcome our Guest Speaker,

Geoff Taylor

‘Wine Tasting: Chemistry in a Glass’

The event will be held at Johnson Matthey Technology Centre from 7pm.

Located at Blounts Court, Sonning Common, Reading, RG4 9NH

Tickets cost £15.00 per person and there are limited places available.

Included in admission price: drinks reception, followed by a talk with wine tasting and hot buffet.

Please contact Weiliang Wang to register.

70 Galsworthy Drive

Caversham

Reading

RG4 6PP

Tel: 07917181851

Email: weiliang.wang@matthey.com

Please send your cheque payable to ‘RSC Thames Valley Section Trust’ by 12th May and include your contact details, names of all ticket holders and any dietary requirements.

About the speaker:

Geoff has spent his entire working life of over 38 years, in the alcoholic drinks industry. After graduating in Biochemistry he started work in the laboratory of a wine importer. He then moved into Production Management then Technical Manager before moving to the Berry Group as their Chief Chemist, responsible for the entire production of their wines and spirits portfolio. During his 8 year period he made several million litres of wines and distilled spirits. He then founded Corkwise, a niche wines and spirits analysis and consultancy business which he ran for 17 years. That business and Geoff are now part of Campden BRI. He has appeared on national TV, writes articles for trade magazines, is a regular expert witness, is much travelled and currently handles new business and product development.