

Annual General Meeting, Lecture and Buffet

2 May 2017

18:00

The Science Suite

RSC, Burlington House, Piccadilly

London, W1J 0BA

The AGM will be followed at about 18:30 by a lecture, "Science in the Service of Henry VIII: Conserving a Tudor Collection" given by Dr Eleanor Schofield Conservation Manager for the Mary Rose. Dr Schofield gained a PhD in synchrotron science from Imperial College and has applied this to archaeological investigations of wood. After the lecture there will be a hot-buffet supper, tickets for which are available at £15 per person (details at the bottom of the page).

For more information contact:

Dr Adrian Arnold-Smith, CChem, FRSC

01753 884762

a.arnoldsmith@btinternet.com

I / we wish to attend

Name(s)

Royal Society of Chemistry membership number Please reserve places

Special requirements

Address

Postcode Telephone number

Email

Please send cheques payable to RSC Chilterns and Middlesex Section Trust together with a stamped, self-addressed envelope using the above form to Dr A. Arnold-Smith, 14 South Park View, Gerrards Cross, SL9 8HN.

ROYAL SOCIETY OF CHEMISTRY

CHILTERN AND MIDDLESEX
LOCAL SECTION