Papers are invited in the following thematic areas:

- Manufacturing and functionalisation of particulates or structured particulate products from the nanometre to millimetre scale.

The following sub-areas will be considered:

- Process Analytical Technology
- Particulate product design and particle chemistry
- Particulate solids handling and processing
- Suspension, dispersion, and granular flows
- Pneumatic and hydraulic conveying, and fluidisation
- Process control
- Measuring techniques for particulate systems
- Particle size, shape, and structure analysis
- Rheological analysis
- Measurement of electrical charges
- Single particle and bulk powder characterisation
- Cohesive powder characterisation
- Non-intrusive particle tracking techniques
- Flow measurement
- Emerging techniques for nano particulate systems
- Modelling of particulate systems across length scales
- New theories and methods for nano particulate systems

The PSA2011 conference and exhibition will be relevant to a range of scientific, technological and engineering sectors, in particular, the pharmaceutical, nuclear, chemical, biomedical, mineral, food and household product industries.

Edinburgh

A breathtakingly beautiful city, Edinburgh offers so much for delegates beyond their conference – with a year round programme of arts and festivals, music concerts, theatre and dance. Edinburgh Castle, the national collections of art and museums, whisky tours and many other attractions are all within easy walking distance of the compact city centre. Edinburgh also boasts the most restaurants per person within the UK and an exciting array of shopping opportunities, ranging from designer boutiques to Scottish gifts and mementos.

The city is very accessible – Edinburgh's international airport is only 12 km from the city centre and the city's railway station links to all major cities in Britain. Edinburgh is the gateway to Scotland, so why not take time to explore some of this beautiful country, sampling our delicious local seafoods and cheeses, and perhaps playing golf or mountain climbing?

Hilton Edinburgh Grosvenor hotel

Just 50 metres from Haymarket Station, the newly refurbished Hilton Edinburgh Grosvenor hotel is ideally placed for Princes Street shopping and Edinburgh attractions. Boasting 184 bedrooms, the new newly refurbished hotel has a contemporary and inviting feel. Wireless internet access is available in all bedrooms as well as public areas. Guests are invited to use the health club facilities at the nearby sister hotel, the Caledonian Hilton Hotel. The hotel's Town House restaurant offers a feast of traditional Scottish cuisine and modern European dishes in a chic and informal setting.

Note

Hotel accommodation is not included in the Registration Fee. Delegates are requested to make their own arrangements for accommodation.

Due to the Edinburgh Festival 14th August – 3rd September 2011, early accommodation reservations would be advised.

Accommodation information and booking facility will be available on the conference website www.psa2011.com in due course.
