

RSC Notes

Newsletter for Librarians and Information Specialists

January 2008

Dear Colleague

Happy New Year and welcome to the latest issue of RSC Notes, keeping you up-to-date with what's happening in RSC Publishing. You are welcome to contact us (sales@rsc.org) either if you have any comments, or if you feel that you are not the appropriate person to receive these newsletters.

Kind regards

Valerie Simpson
Product Marketing Manager

PS Please pass this on to any colleagues who you think would be interested. They can also sign up to receive their own copy at www.rsc.org/rscnotes

New journal: Energy & Environmental Science

This new journal will be launched in summer 2008, and will publish all aspects of the chemical sciences relating to energy conversion and storage, alternative fuel technologies and environmental science. Read more ...

Access to the current issue will be freely available to all during 2008 and 2009. To help you and your researchers to properly evaluate the content before subscribing, you can also arrange for free access to the entire 2008 and 2009 content – simply email us (sales@rsc.org) with your Customer Number or Institution name and Post/Zip code.

Renewals and Grace period

If you have yet to renew your subscription to any RSC journal, please be aware that it is not our policy to extend the grace period for electronic journals beyond 31st January. There is no grace period for print journals. Therefore to continue to access content from your preferred journals, you should renew your subscription now. If you have any problems, please contact the Sales team. (sales@rsc.org)

Molecular BioSystems

Launched in summer 2005, this journal focuses on the interface between chemistry and the -omic sciences and systems biology. Previously accessible via a subscription to a number of RSC journals, Molecular BioSystems is now available only to Package A/A+ subscribers or to those with a separate subscription. Read more about the successes since launch and why you should subscribe. If you subscribe to Package A/A+, make sure you add Molecular BioSystems to your catalogue so that your researchers can find it.

Extra eBooks

Covering more than 750 titles published between 1968 and 2006 at launch, the RSC eBook Collection has grown during 2007 with the addition of 44 titles. A chapter from each book is available for anyone to view – take a look today.
