

RSC Industry and Technology Forum

Small Companies Remit

- Advise the RSC on Government policy matters relevant to chemical science related small companies
- Identify distinctive opportunities for the Industry and Technology Forum to help provide support and services to RSC members in chemical science small companies including university spin-outs across the UK
- Facilitate and promote networks across SMEs, large companies and academia to aid collaboration and knowledge/technology transfer
- Help create awareness of issues relevant to small companies and spin-outs and collaborate with various government bodies and organisations to ensure these businesses reach their maximum potential