COURSE OUTLINE

This course is a lively introduction to how the patent system works and the nature and scope of the rights a patent gives, with an emphasis on chemical inventions. It covers patentability, patent procedures, infringement, the commercial exploitation of patents, the interpretation of patent literature and the role of the inventor. There are also chemically oriented workshops aimed at exploring and reinforcing the basic course teachings.

This course covers a variety of topics including;

- > the patent system
- > patent "claims"
- > patentability
- > identifying inventions
- > claiming inventions
- > prior art, novelty & inventive step
- > patent procedures & publications
- > distinguishing inventions from the prior art
- > inventorship & ownership
- > the priority system
- > patent specifications
- > understanding patent front sheets
- > European & PCT patent applications
- > patent procedures - the examination process
- > responding to Patent Office objections
- > patent procedures - post-grant
- > patent infringement
- > attacking third party patent rights
- > assessing & tackling infringement risks
- > the commercial value of patents

There will be a variety of lively interactive workshops involved throughout the course.

COURSE TUTORS

Jakob Bumke

Partner,
Head of Chemistry,
European and Chartered
UK patent attorney

Jakob is a Chartered UK Patent Attorney and European Patent Attorney, specialising in chemical, materials and mechanical technologies. Having obtained an honours degree in chemistry and law from the University of Bristol in 2002, he returned to the West of England in 2012, after nine years at a highly regarded private practice firm in London. He became a Partner at Greaves Brewster LLP in 2015.

Jakob has considerable technical and commercial experience, having drafted and managed patent portfolios for many chemical, life sciences and engineering companies, spin-outs, start-ups and universities. He has also spent two years seconded in-house to the IP department of a major chemical corporation. Jakob likes to take a commercially aware approach based on an in-depth understanding not only of law and technology, but also of business in general. He has been recommended as "first class" in the Legal 500.

Jakob grew up in Jamaica, Germany and India, which gives him a particularly international outlook on life.

Freija Glansdorp

European and Chartered
UK patent attorney

Freija has an MA honours degree in natural sciences from Cambridge University. She also completed a PhD at Cambridge, with her research focusing on novel modes of action of antibacterial agents.

Freija began her career in patents with another firm of patent attorneys and joined Greaves Brewster LLP in 2011. Her main fields of expertise are synthetic organic chemistry and pharmaceuticals, with significant experience in prosecuting such cases before the European Patent Office.

Freija has a strong interest in helping to address the world's environmental problems through commercially sound initiatives, and especially enjoys working in 'green technology' areas. She speaks English, Dutch and German.
