DAY 1 (BST)	2nd July 2021
09:00 – 09:15	Welcome
09:15 – 09:35	An Irreversible Chemo-Biocatalytic Cascade for the Synthesis of Substituted Pyrroles Ben Ashley, University of Edinburgh
09:35 – 09:55	A novel covalent approach for stabilising 14-3-3<math>\sigma</math> Protein-Protein Interactions Marta Falcicchio, Leicester Institute for Structural & Chemical Biology
09:55 – 10:15	Overcoming Drug-Resistance in Human IDH1 Cancer Variants Raphael Reinbold, University of Oxford
10:15 – 10:35	Multivalent Naphthalene Diimide Fluorescent Probes for G4 DNA Targeting and Intracellular Visualisation Eliza Hunt, University of Bristol
10:35 – 10:45	CEM, Dr Brunello Nardone
10:45 – 11:00	Coffee break
11:00 – 12:00	Flash talks / Poster Session 1
12:00 – 13:00	Lunch
13:00 – 13:20	Development of chemical tools for the study of TRPC1/4/5 channels Isabelle Pickles, University of Leeds
13:20 – 13:40	Functional characterisation of polyprenyl phosphomannose synthases for biocatalysis and medicine Ryan Packer, University of Warwick
13:40 – 14:00	The answer to life, the universe, and everything: <math>\pm 42</math> Da (determined by MALDI-TOF MS HTS against HAT and HDAC enzymes) Loane Serrano, University of Oxford
14:00 – 14:20	Controlled activation of communication pathways between living and artificial cells Ignacio Gispert, Imperial College
14:20 – 14:30	Teledyne, Dr Nicola Brown
14:30 – 14:45	Coffee break
14:45 – 15:45	Flash talks / Poster Session 2
15:45 – 16:45	Plenary Lecture Janus Particles: the role of molecular symmetry in epigenetic regulation Prof. Tom Muir, Princeton University
16:45 – 17:00	Prizes and closing remarks
