

Prizes and Awards

Rewarding Excellence and Dedication

ChemComm-RSC Prizes & Awards Symposium in association with the Analytical Division

Wednesday 22 February, 2012, Sir Alex Fleming Building, Imperial College London

13.00 - 13.05 Welcome

13.05 - 13.45 Dr Perdita Barran, University of Edinburgh, UK

ChemComm sponsored speaker

Resolving Solution Structures in the Absence of Solution

13.45 - 14.30 Professor Carol V Robinson, University of Oxford, UK

2011 Interdisciplinary Prize Winner

Membrane protein complexes at last

14.30 - 15.15 Professor Marius Clore, NIDDK, National Institutes of Health, USA

2011 Centenary Prize Winner

Exploring sparsely-populated states of proteins and their complexes by paramagnetic and diamagnetic NMR

15.15 - 15.40 Tea & Coffee

15.40 - 16.20 Professor Albert Heck, Utrecht University, the Netherlands

ChemComm sponsored speaker

Modern Biomolecular Mass Spectrometry & its Role in Studying Virus Structure, Dynamics & Assembly

16.20 - 17.05 Professor R Graham Cooks, Purdue University, USA

2011 Centenary Prize Winner

Mass Spectrometry simplified: ambient ionization & miniature mass spectrometers

17.05 - 17.50 Professor Anthony P F Turner, IFM-Linköping University, Sweden

2011 Theophilus Redwood Award Winner

Biosensors: Sense & Sensibility

18.15 Wine Reception

This event will be held in the Imperial College London. Nearest tube station is South Kensington