ICAMA 2020
International Conference on Advanced
Materials and their Applications 2020

International Conference on Advanced Materials and their Applications 2-4 November 2020

The College of science and Humanities at Prince Sattam Bin Abdulaziz University in Al-Kharj organizes the International Conference on Advanced Materials and their Applications (ICAMA 2020). This conference will be held in Al-Kharj from 2 to 4 November 2020. ICAMA 2020 amounts to a platform wherein a worldwide constellation of researchers, scientists, engineers, academicians, and industrial professionals exchange knowledge and developing research activities in the field of the advanced science of materials and nanotechnology; and this would enhance a great deal of significant applications in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia such as energy production and desalination applications as well as medical applications and petrochemical industries, etc. Holding this conference and enacting its events provide an opportunity for the attendants and participants to make one another's acquaintance and exchange their experiments and experiences in a way that greatly contributes to establishing research relations and finding global partners for future collaboration.

Conference Objectives

- Displaying new developments in nanotechnology and materials sciences for the sake of benefiting from them to solve different industrial, developmental and environmental problems inside the Kingdom.
- Exploring new industrial and scholarly opportunities and challenges for enhancing creativity and innovation through exchanging knowledge among researchers, postgraduate students, and professionals.
- Encouraging scientific research activities in the materials sciences field and their applications
