Event Name	Wellbeing Workshop
Event Type	Training/ Workshop
Audience	Consultants
Proposed Date	Summer 2019
Comments	In 2017, the Chemists' Community Fund, the working name of the RSC's Benevolent Fund, began investigating the provision of wellbeing workshops after feedback from their volunteer network, as well as from other RSC Networks. In addition, there is evidence that chemists have a higher than the national average (1.28x) suicide rate, with suggested reasoning including access to dangerous chemicals, high self-performance targets, long hours, which may be solitary, and it can be a stressful career with the management of multi-million-pound projects. Aim of the Workshop Learn to recognise when yourself, a friend or colleague is struggling with their general wellbeing and giving yourself the tools to offer support.

Diversity & Inclusion

Please ensure this section is completed

Our trustees are aiming to embed diversity and inclusion in all of our activities and networks. Section 8 of our online network handbook contains more information to support our networks in achieving this and our Diversity team have online Guides for Networks that include actions and considerations for committees, and guides for inclusive communications and running inclusive events.

Please comment on how your group is showing that it has embraced Diversity and Inclusion within its practices. If you have diversity data from your events or activities, please include this information above.

The committee continues to recognise a geographical inclusion issue with location of group meetings, held at Burlington House. The majority of members are located in London / SE England so holding meetings in London does minimise average travel time & cost for potential attendees for each meeting, but over the long term clearly disadvantages those based in other regions.

During 2018, we ran a very successful AGM which was attended by a considerable diversity of people including some younger members looking to become self-employed consultants. We had a diverse range of speakers including newly elected RSC members who gave talks on running their newly established consultancies as well as having presentations on important regulatory and security issues from experienced professionals, both from the RSC and other establishments.

We recruited a dedicated Digital Officer whose role it is to use social media, web site and other communication channels to reach more RSC CG members and to promote our goals and events to better support members. This will allow the committee to expand its activities and number of meetings per year.

The committee have also developed contacts with the Chemical and Industrial Consultants Association, as a result of which CG members are now always invited to attend CICA meetings. CICA hold meetings in the NW and CICA comes to Burlington House in the summer each year for a joint meeting. Our speaker diversity has been reflected in terms of gender, educational background and professional branch of consulting. We are looking to understand how we can better support younger consultants who we recognise are growing in number. The plan is to liaise with the RSC's Young Members Network.

In late 2018, a collaboration was set up between CG and the Kent Local Section. The CG Secretary gave a presentation at a local in Bromley, Kent with the topic introducing RSC CG and her experience of running a small consultancy. The intention is to continue in 2019 with further events, both social and RSC Networking Meetings.
