

SUNSCREEN

Titanium dioxide is a key component of sunscreens, stopping UV light from the sun reaching the skin.

SPACE STATION

Many International Space Station parts are titanium – it's strong, light, and copes in extreme temperatures.

JOINTS

Titanium metal is used to make artificial joints, as it is biocompatible and also resists corrosion.