

Sulfonation of TPD and subsequent passivation of CdSe nanocrystals for use as efficient photosensitizers in organic photoconductive matrices is reported.