

All of the western blot bands in this document are from animal tissues. It is worth nothing that we put two gels on one NC membranes for exposure in this experiment. In particular, we did not get very good bands of IL-6 and claudin, although we have experimented many times or changed antibodies, which may be due to the cells in the tissue are complex or the protein content is low.

Raw images of Western blot were as follows:

