

To facilitate the incubation with the primary antibody, we cut the PVDF membrane into two parts, upper and lower, and incubated them separately with the respective antibodies