

Supplementary figure 3. Overview of potential antimicrobial protein biosynthesis gene clusters in KYS-164.

The green part represents the matched core gene, warnericin_RC, which can exert an antibacterial effect. The red part is the matched ABC transporter. The gray parts are protein sequences that have not been matched to function.