

Reflectance spectrum of a polyurethane thin film, showing the interference pattern; the constant amplitude of the fringes in all the spectral range is a sign of good homogeneity and low surface roughness of the film.