

Supplemental movie. L1210 cells growing and dividing in the microfluidic "baby machine," while releasing newborn cells. The fluid flow is from left to right. In this video, one frame was acquired every 5 minutes for a total elapsed time of 12.2 hours. The video is sped up 1800x.