

Figure S1. Quantification of BrdU-labeled nuclei for 24h culture. The statistical significance ($p < 0.05$) after performing t-tests are marked: *, indicates a significant difference between the cells growing on different substrates with same condition, compared with Flat Ti; #, denotes a significant difference between different treatment on the same substrate, compare with control group (regular medium without Y27632 treatment).