

Supplementary Information

N-type perylene-based organic semiconductors for functional neural interfacing

Stefano Toffanin, et al.

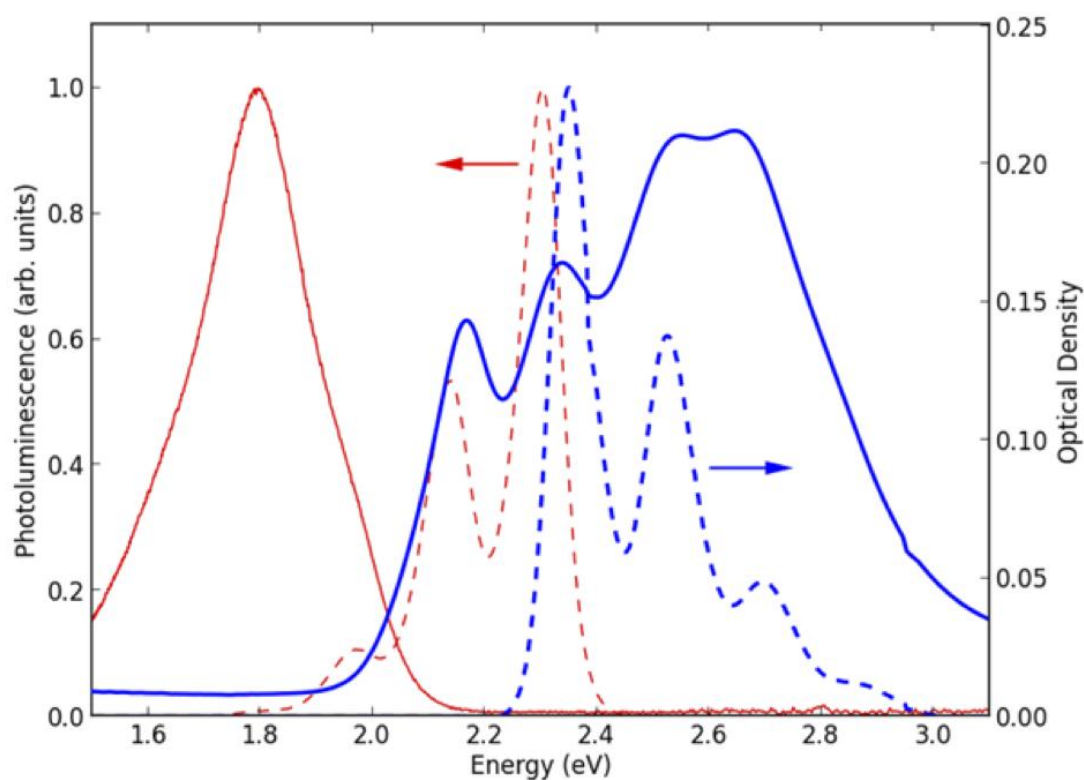

Figure S1. Absorption (blue lines) and photoluminescence (red lines) spectra of P13 in solution (dashed lines) and in thin-film on quartz (solid lines). The differences between the thin-film and the solution spectra indicate the high degree of intermolecular interaction in the condensed phase.